FEBRUARY PROGRAM

DOLCE CANTABILE HARP ENSEMBLE

The "Tulsa Harp Trio" , Lorelei Barton, Linda Paul, and Jill Wiebe will be performing. Our program will be made up of a variety of music including arrangements by Joplin, Bizet, Gilbert and Sullivan, and Celtic with some original American and Paraguayan music composed for harp.

Barbi Cottingham will be accepting nominations for TAMTA's 2011 OMTA Fellow award through April 15th. This award honors a TAMTA member for service above and beyond the call of duty. Elected officers will make the final decision as to which member will receive the award, and are not eligible for the award themselves. To make a nomination, write a brief statement describing why you feel your nominee should receive the award, and include information about their contributions to TAMTA in your statement. Nominees must be active members to be eligible for this award.

The TAMTA Board did not meet in February due to the weather conditions.

How are you handling the lessons missed due to the weather? E-mail me with your solutions and ideas, and I'll publish them in the next newsletter.

2011 Sonatina Competition Results

Barbi Cottingham did a great job of putting together another successful Sonatina Competition on Saturday, February 12th. There was excellent participation with a good number of teachers entering students. All the students should be commended for learning a multi-movement work and performing it by memory. The first place winners of each division will be performing for us at the March meeting.

WELCOME!

TAMTA has a new member: Angela Yandell. She grew up in Ardmore and started learning piano from her mom at a young age, then started studying with Kaye Gosdin at age 9. She graduated summa cum laude from Southwestern Assemblies of God University with a Bachelor of Arts in Piano Performance in 2010. While at SAGU, Angela studied with Dr. Amanda Lee. She was the accompanist for the SAGU Chorale and Choir, as well as for several vocal studios. Angela was a founding member of the piano ensemble and played keyboard for the chapel worship team. She has done several solo performances, including playing in a master class for Dr. Juyeon Kang. She was a student teacher for beginning class piano and taught private piano in Waxahachie, Texas for four years. Angela is now residing in Beggs with her husband, Jonathan. They are serving as the youth pastors at Beggs First Assembly of God Church.
